

FEB 7 1962

Approved For Release 2004/01/16 : CIA-RDP75-00149R000500050040-1

Ug 4

X Pw 1

X Pw 2

EQ MCCARTHY

MACLEAN

don
maclean

ASIDE: Some senators objected when Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D., Minn.) proposed a joint Senate-House committee to supervise the Central Intelligence Agency. They claimed that some legislators couldn't keep a secret. With his tongue firmly in his cheek, Sen. McCarthy then suggested that since the President and Vice President, on the other hand, were trusted to keep secrets, that the committee be limited to those members who had been candidates for President and Vice President.